Bellerophon was a heroic prince of Corinth. He managed to tame Pegasus, the magnificent winged horse, with the help of the goddess Athena, who gave him a golden bridle. "Bellerophon was a brave hero who rode the magnificent winged horse Pegasus. From high in the sky, Pegasus could see forests, villages, rivers, and mountains. Tonight, we're going to imagine that we are riding Pegasus and looking down at the world from above." Let's see what kind of animals they might have seen in the jungle.

The king of Lycia then assigned Bellerophon a seemingly impossible task: to kill the Chimera, a fire-breathing monster with the body of a lion, a goat growing from its back, and a serpent for a tail. Riding Pegasus through the sky, Bellerophon attacked the Chimera from above and defeated it. During wars each country carries their own flag into battle - we need to know what our flag looks like. Afterward, he completed several other dangerous missions and became famous throughout the land. However, his success made him arrogant. Believing he was worthy of joining the gods, he tried to ride Pegasus up to Mount Olympus.Zeus was angered by this act of pride. Zeus sent a gadfly to sting Pegasus, causing Bellerophon to fall back to earth. There is another kind of pride - a GOOD pride in being a CUB we need to be proud of our uniforms - this shows everyone who we are. We need to look after and respect our uniforms.
