| 18:10 | 5 min | The story of Kim | | |

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Baden-Powell's believed that Kim, the main character in a story his friend Rudyard Kipling wrote, was a good example of what a scout could be. One of Kim's skills was that he was incredibly observant. This is Kim's story.A long time ago in India there was a boy named Kimball O'Hara, but everyone called him Kim. He grew up on the streets of Lahore, clever and quick-eyed, always watching, always learning. One of the things he was called by the locals was, ""Little friend of all the world." He was a friend to all, just like a scout (and cub) should be. One day Kim met a spy trainer called Lurgan Sahib. He trained Kim and his test was simple: objects on a tray, covered, and you had to remember every single one. Kim trained and trained until his memory became razor-sharp. He became one of the greatest secret agents in the land. | | |
| Agent Kim has left you some challenges of observation, touch and time. Let's unravel his games and hone our senses. | | | | |
| 18.15 | 35 min | Memory and sense game rotationsWork in sixes and as a groupBase 1: Traditional Kim's GameA spy always watches silently, taking in everything and forgetting nothing● 15 items covered on a table● Everyone must be silent and observe what the items are for 1 minute● Work together and write down as many items as you can remember● Marbles:○ Less than 5 correct: 1 marble○ Less than 12 correct: 2 marbles○ More than 12 correct: 4 marbles○ All 15 correct: 5 marblesBase 2: Touch and feelA spy creeping through the dark needs to know what they are touching and be sure to remember it● 8 items in a bag | ● 15 items● Table● Cloth to cover items● 8 items● Dark bag | AkelaChikai |

|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | • Everyone must be silent• Each cub has a turn to feel the 8 items. They must be quiet and remember what they were• After each cub has had a turn, they work together to try and remember them all• Marbles:  ○ Less than 2 correct: 1 marble  ○ Less than 6 correct: 2 marbles  ○ More than 6 correct: 4 marbles  ○ All 8 correct (and accurate): 5 marbles | | |
| | | Base 3: The time lockKim has left a time lock - can you find the right times to unlock the safe?• 12x 24hr times• Quick explanation of how 24 hour clock works• Everyone must be silent while one cub solves each step of the time lock• The cub is given a 24hr time (GW has a complex time, e.g. 13h45, and silver wolves have a simple time, e.g. 15h00)• There is a paper plate analogue clock face with hands. They must put the hands of the clock at the correct time to match the 24hr time• Marbles:  ○ Less than 4 correct: 1 marble  ○ Less than 8 correct: 2 marbles  ○ More than 8 correct: 4 marbles  ○ All 12 correct:: 5 marbles | • 12 24hr clock times• Paper plate anlogue clock with hour and minute hands that can be moved (i.e. pinned with a split pin or similar) | Kaa |
| | | Base 4: The rope observationIt's not just about remembering what you see, but recognising what it is - will Kim's challenge leave you in a knot?• 6x cub knots on a rope• Work together and identify all 6x knots | • Rope with 6 cub knots tied• Knot name cards | Pack helper |

|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | • Once done, GW to teach all the silver wolves a reef knot, or a slip reef if they already know the reef kot• Marbles:  ○ Less than 2 correct: 1 marble  ○ Less than 4 correct: 2 marbles  ○ More than 4 correct: 4 marbles  ○ All 6 correct and GW ables to teach the knots: 5 marbles | | |
| The sea is calm and all the creatures are resting on the ocean floor. But while your eyes are closed, the sneaky current of the Deep Blue moves something! When the tide settles, can your sharp sea-creature eyes spot what has changed?" | | | | |
| 18:50 | 10min | "Who Changed in the Tide?"How to PlayHave the Cubs sit or stand in a circle.Choose one Cub to stand in the middle as the Sea Creature.Everyone studies the Sea Creature carefully for 20 seconds."Look closely! Notice everything – shoes, sleeves, hair, badges, glasses..."The Cubs close their eyes and put their hands over them.Quietly ask the Sea Creature to change ONE thing about their appearance. (Have some items - eg scarves, caps, etc)Everyone opens their eyes.The first Cub to spot the change puts a hand up (no shouting out).The Cub who spotted it correctly becomes the next Sea Creature. | | Chikai |
