Cubs, you've completed your Water Hero training. Now it's time to learn from the experts! Our special visitors are part of the National Sea Rescue Institute, and they're here to show us how real water heroes help people in need. Let's give them a big Cub welcome!
18:10	40 min	NSRI Program Akela hands over to Rocky who introduces the Cubs to Uncle Jacques from the NSRI for a fun interactive program on what it means to be a real-life Water Hero.		Rocky & Jacques (NSRI)
Tonight we've learned that being a Water Hero is about much more than boats and rescue equipment - it's about courage, teamwork, and helping others.
18.50	5 min	Thank you! Two Cubs represent the Pack and gift our NSRI heroes a small token of our appreciation. NB: Take a Group photograph	• Gifts	Two Cubs
The sea has been our theme all evening, so before we sail back to harbour and end our meeting, let's sing a sailor's favourite. Watch carefully, listen for the special word, and see if you can keep up!
18:55	5min	My Bonny lies over the ocean Every time we sing a word starting with the letter "B", we will squat or stand up. My Bonnie lies over the ocean, My Bonnie lies over the sea, My Bonnie lies over the ocean, Oh, bring back my Bonnie to me. Bring back, bring back, Oh bring back my Bonnie to me, to me. Bring back, bring back, Oh bring back my Bonnie to me, to me.		All

Heroes aren't people who never get scared. Heroes are people who know what to do when things get difficult. The NSRI volunteers serve others with courage and teamwork, and tonight we've learned that every Cub can be a Water Hero too.
