17:45	10min	Two weeks ago, you taught Roz the ways of the Jungle. She learnt about the animals, the Cub Law, knots and songs. This week, Roz has discovered a little garden beside her shelter. She wants to care for this garden, but she has discovered that carrying water from the river every day is hard work. She wonders... is there a better way? Tonight, you will become Nature's Engineers and teach Roz how to use the power of water. • Grand Howl • Inspection - Identify a Jungle Book Character (2) - Paws & Claws (2) - Neatly dressed (1) - Bonus marble to the Cubs who participated in World Scout Scarf Day - they need to confidently say where they wore their scarf (1) - Bonus marble to all Cubs who attended Group Night (1)	Council Rock Flag Totem Jungle Book Character cards	Akela Inspection: Red Six = Akela Yellow Six = Leelah Green Six = Kaa Black Six = Chikai
Roz has decided that the best place to start is by watering the little garden. She's asked the Cub Pack to help collect as much water as possible - but she'll soon discover that there's still a problem
17:55	10 min	Steam Release: Roz Needs Water Three-legged Water Relay Each Six divides into pairs. • Tie the inside legs together. • Each pair fills a small cup with water. • Walk (or carefully race) to the basin at the other end. • Pour the water into the basin • Return and tag the next pair (give them your cups). • This can be repeated thrice (depending on time)	Orange ties (or cub scarves) 4 x basins filled with water 8 x cups (2 per six) Big basin (with some water in it)	Kaa & Leelah Akela & Chika to set up water mill stations

		• Once all Cubs have had a turn, they all gather at the basin, and fill the cooldrink bottles to water the garden Debrief Ask: • Was it easy carrying water? • Did you spill some? • Would you want to do that every day? People asked the same question hundreds of years ago. Instead of carrying water all day, they discovered that rivers could do some of the work for them. Tonight, because everyone did a good turn by helping Roz to water the garden, there are no special winners - everyone is a winner and everyone earns 1 marble!!	Empty 2l cooldrink bottles
Well done, Cubs! You've worked hard helping Roz water the garden. Just as the plants need water to grow, we also need water to keep our bodies healthy. Let's take a quick water break before we discover an easier way to help Roz.
18:05	5 min	Water Break	Water bottles	All
Roz has learnt that nature isn't just something to survive in - it can also help us. Flowing water has been used for thousands of years to turn wheels, grind grain, lift water and power simple machines.
18:10	45 min	Working Toys Badge continued . . . Building Roz's Water Mill Tonight we'll build a water mill to show Roz how people learnt to work with nature instead of against it. Activity • Build a water mill. • Decorate it. • Test it Discuss • How does the water make the wheel turn? • What jobs could the wheel do? https://youtu.be/SjmZ169jTFI?si=MDcpY00Bkrl4sr63 (plates & cups)	Styrofoam plates Plastic spoons / small cups/skewers Duct tape / Cellotape Skewers Tables Chairs	Red Six = Akela Yellow Six = Leelah Green Six = Kaa Black Six = Chikai
Roz has discovered that the greatest power isn't found in machines - it's found in kindness.
18:50	10 min	Blanket of Hope: Helping Others		Juanita

		Earlier this term, you and your friends and family knitted and crocheted squares that will become blankets bringing warmth, comfort and hope to people receiving chemotherapy. Tonight we welcome Juanita, Alyssa from Blanket of Hope's colleague, to tell us how your hard work will make a difference. • Welcome Juanita • Juanita explains the Blanket of Hope project. • Presentation and handover of the knitted and crocheted squares. • Group Photo • Thank Juanita • 3 woofs
Roz has also learnt that every member of the Pack has different talents. One of those gifts is music, which brings joy and brings people together.
19:00	5min	Singing Badge: Sharing Our Gifts Annie performs her chosen songs to complete her Singing Interest Badge. Well done Annie!		Annie
Tonight you taught Roz that people are strongest when they work together, care for nature and use their gifts to help others. Those are qualities that make great Cubs too
19h05	10 min	Closing Cubs, well done on completing another "Working Toys" badge task. You have 1 more task to complete in order to earn the badge, so now this all depends on you . . . Each Cub receives a ziplock bag/envelope with:: • 1 x straw • 1 x split pin • 1 x sheet of paper • 1 x instruction card Cubs are to make a windmill at home, and bring it to Cubs next week to be signed off on the Working toys badge. • Badges • Grand Howl / Flag down • Prayer		Akela
