Roz had learnt that the wild is full of homes — nests in trees, burrows underground and hiding places beneath the leaves. But something feels off .... Trees are disappearing, and the animals are running out of places to live. Can we help Roz figure out what is wrong
17:55	15 min	Steam Release: The Shrinking Forest Setup: Place 20 pieces of paper on the ground Make a circle with a rope Each round remove some of the papers and shrink the circle Play Round 1: Be starfish Round 2: Be a frog - find a partner and leap frog over each other Round 3: Elephant - stomping and swaying their trunk Round 4 Buck - galloping around When the whistle blows - shout "into the forest" - each cub needs to find a habitat and get onto a piece of paper. Remove papers each round and shrink the circle Suddenly they're having to squeeze together. Keep removing habitat until it's ridiculous. It wasn't only the elephants that struggled when the forest got smaller. What happened to the frogs? The starfish? The buck?" They ALL lost space to live.
