If you get lost in the wilderness:

- STAY PUT! Hug a tree or don't move unless there is impending danger. If you must move leave a clear trail for rescuers to follow.
- Put a brightly colored bandana or other clothing high in a tree or someplace visible fromt he air
- Signal planes and helicopters using a mirror or shiny object
- Use a whistle to attract the attention of searchers, don't yell unless you have no other way. Yelling dehydrates and tires you out, and is often not effective.
- Save your energy and STAY CALM! Panicing will only make it harder to find you!
