Dottie McStuffins, known as Doc to her friends, is a doctor to her toys. Tonight Doc has a new kind of case: keeping her toys safe around water. She needs a whole team of Water Heroes - lifeguards, rescue workers, scientists, first aiders and clever Cubs. Water Heroes wear different uniforms, so let's introduce our Water Hero team:

Doc's Water Heroes need to react quickly when something goes wrong. Before we can help anyone, we need to learn the Water Hero emergency commands.
18h10	5	Steam release: Water Hero Rescue Academy Cubs run around until a command is called: Lighthouse - stand tall and turn slowly. SOS - groups of 3. Helicopter - arms out and turn carefully. Life jacket - hug yourself. Rescue ring - group of 3-4 in a circle, 1 in the middle. Big wave - line up, hold hands and jump together.	Whistle	Kaa
Every doctor and rescue team needs the right equipment. Doc has a medical kit, but tonight she needs a Water Hero kit. Let's work out what belongs in it and what each item could be used for.
18h15	10	Activity: Pack Doc's Water Rescue Kit Cubs sit in Sixes. Give each Six a mixture of useful and silly items. They decide what should go into a Water Hero kit and explain why. Cubs also write their emergency numbers on the card handed out.	Gloves, plasters, gauze/clean cloth, notebook, pencil, tweezers, emergency card, whistle, torch, rope, towel, water bottle, sunblock plus silly items	Akela
Doc uses clean water to hydrate her patients, clean wounds and cool minor burns. Water Heroes know that clean water is precious. With your buddy go and have a drink, but don't waste our water.
18h25	5	Water break	Water bottles	All
Water Heroes are people who work hard, learn new skills and use them to help others. Tonight we are celebrating one of our own heroes, Tamara, who has worked hard to achieve her Springbok Award.

As a doctor, Doc asks lots of questions to find out what is wrong. Water Heroes also need to think before they act. Let's see what you know about being safe in and around water.
18h45	10	Revision: Yes/No game Start with the Cubs standing. Call out the questions. If the Cubs think the answer is YES, they sit down. If NO, they stay standing. Alternate the answers to keep them moving.	Questions	Rikki
Doc knows that a Water Hero does not rush into danger. They stay calm, call for help and use the right skills. Now each group has a Water Hero emergency to solve.
18h55	20	Play Acting: Water Hero Scenarios Split the Cubs into groups - and give each group their scenario. They have 10 minutes to decide what to do and 2 minutes each to play act their response. Each group gets a turn.	Scenarios	Raksha
